POTENTIALLY

Artwork for a locker, 2007

Off the record, what kind of message do I want to leave you?

Nothing distant, but something very close, getting closer,
moving quickly to you, catching up, spilling over...

I would have you react, jump back, move forward,
try and save the situation, get involved,
be alarmed, be amused.

It will be colorful, full of bouncing, joyous movement
full of the moment.

Marbles are children's toys, perfect tools of communication.
To use them, all a child needs is playfulness and willingness.
No language or heady intellectualism necessary to communicate, to share
to resolve, to experience.
